Once again data.dte shows its reliability while dte.coop.....

data.dte can now be found via <https://petertippett.com.au/dte/> as the board has redirected the DNS to dte.coop.

A rarity?

Chair, now that we've been made aware of this process, can we please remove the current shared screen?

Now that links have been posted to the new process, people can, if they wish, use it at their will / choice.

I can only speak personally, but from a neuro diverse awareness/perspective, not only does this sharing not afford a complete (& practical) view of the document, its quite jarring.

David Cameron

01:17:48

Apology again for dropping out during discussion about screen sharing

I'm back to using my phone

I'll work through practising with dte.coop & goggle docs before our next meetings

Peter Tippett

01:18:03

Robin - Close the sidebar as well.

David Cameron

01:19:55

Thanks Peter for your suggestions Re best use of share screens

John Magor

01:29:45

Robin (as opposed to the Chair) specifically asked for Kevin's input - what we're hearing is exactly that.

Mark

01:30:39

Yes, great idea

Mark

01:32:22

The list of services and suppliers could be workshopped at the Facillitator's Conference.

Malcolm

01:39:36

Suzie good thought that we support locals

John Magor

01:41:43

Lance - I appreciate your respect for process by asking to step aside from the Chair to have some input beyond what's required from a Chair, as well as knowing the difference.

It matters, & I'd hope provides a useful & effective example.

Mark

I am David Cruise. I download and put Minutes, Chat, and audio, on <https://dte.org.au/minutes/audio> for members use. This is the first time I have added a personal comment.
I spoke during this meeting, the p[ossability of using thongs (the footware not the swimming costume) to rid the ConFest side of three corner jacks with the help of a thousand ConFesters.
